

PUBLIC HEALTH SANITARIAN

Public Health Sanitarian sought for full-time position with the Madison County Health Department. Duties involve applying the principles of the natural and social sciences for the detection, evaluation, control and management of those factors in the environment which influence the public's health. Principal activities will be in the community sanitation and food protection programs. Completion of a NYSDOH approved public health training course is required within two years of start of employment. A current NYS driver's license and a Bachelor's Degree including a minimum of 30 semester credit hours in the natural sciences, of which not more than 12 credit hours may be in applied sciences,; or five years of experience as a public health technician and the satisfactory completion of a public health training course approved by the State Health Department, are required.

Madison County is characterized by welcoming neighborhoods with valued agricultural traditions, rich history and natural scenic beauty. Located in the center of New York State and hosting a population of approximately 70,000 persons, Madison County prides itself on it's clean environment, plentiful natural resources and conscientious workforce.

Hire Rate: $18.16/hr. Excellent fringe benefits offered including health insurance and NYS Retirement. Send cover letter, resume and transcript to: Madison County Health Department, attention Director Environmental Health, PO Box 605, Wampsville, NY 13163. EOE